

Nathanael Josua Larsson

A man in a dark suit is captured in a dynamic pose, performing a parkour move on a concrete wall. He is in mid-air, with one leg bent and arms extended, as if he has just jumped or is about to land. The background is a textured, light-colored concrete wall with a dark horizontal band near the bottom. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the man's silhouette against the wall.

Curriculum vitae

Nathanael Josua Larsson

“What is the true meaning of projection? Creation? We stumble on our own language, still we try to give names for patterns and systems. I am a dancer. Trapped in a dictated choreography. Yet in the art of movement I create and change my environment, give new colors and shape to my context.”
