Bruges welcomes you

Bruges is a beautiful medieval city situated in the North of Belgium, in Flanders. Tourists from around the world marvel at the UNESCO city and former European Capital of Culture. The College of Europe campus and residences are spread throughout the city.

Founded in 1949

The College of Europe was established in Bruges in 1949 in the aftermath of the Second World War following a declaration at the Hague conference where delegates called for the establishment of a European university. The idea being to bring young students together from different countries to discuss how the continent could resolve its national differences through international collaboration.

At the heart of Europe

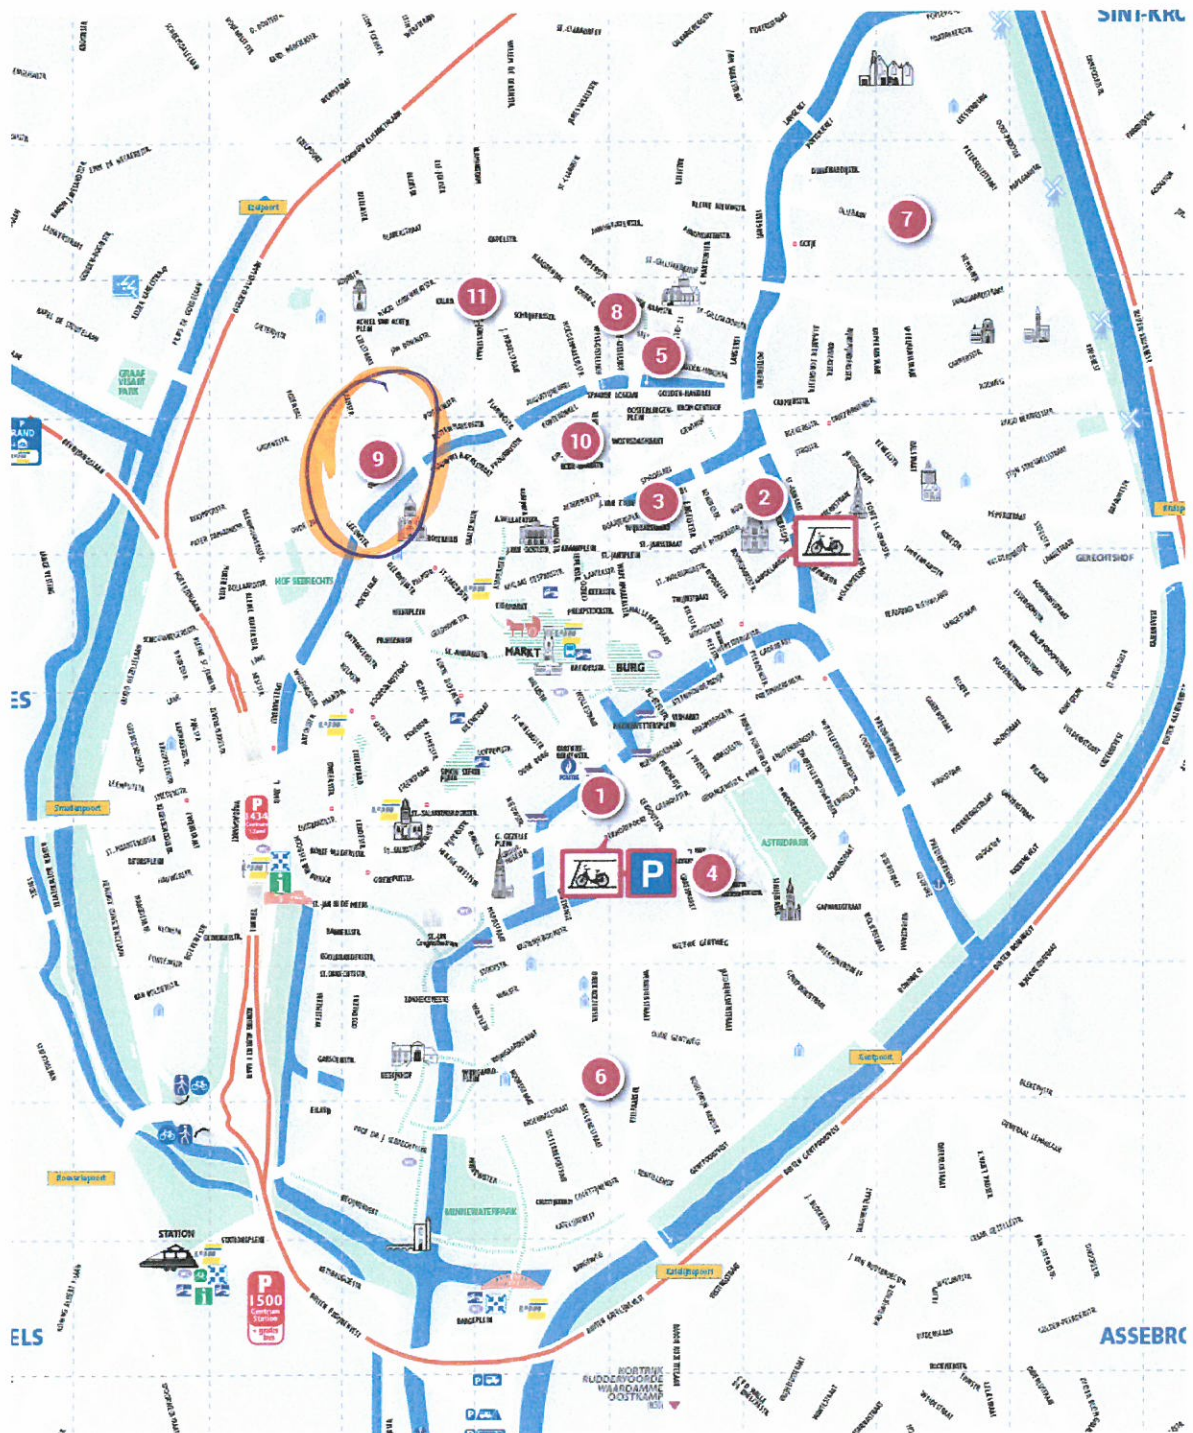

Bruges is within easy reach of Brussels, the capital of Europe, and is easily accessible from many major cities.

Bruges, a student city

The Bruges students benefit from privileged access to first-rate cultural and social activities thanks to the generous support of the city of Bruges. The College of Europe is also a full member of the "Bruges as a student city" – project meaning that students can take part in numerous sports, cultural and social activities together with the almost 9.000 other higher education students of Bruges.

Its proximity to the sea and surrounding country-side provide opportunities for sport and relaxation activities.

SUMMER SCHOOL NTNU CURRENT CHALLENGES IN THE EU

The training programme aims at equipping the participants, who already have a solid knowledge on the EU and its functioning, with the tools to strengthen their understanding of the current trends and challenges of the European Union. In particular, the participants will have the possibility to expand their knowledge on the global financial crisis, the perspective of a differentiated integration within the EU, and the EU's main responses to new security challenges, including migration.

Visiting professor, EU International Relations and Diplomacy Studies Department
(Bruges campus)

David Phinnemore (UK) is Professor of European Politics, Jean Monnet Chair in European Political Science and Dean of Education in the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences at Queen's University Belfast in Northern Ireland.

He holds a BA in European Studies (1990) and was awarded his PhD in European Studies by the University of Kent at Canterbury in 1998. His teaching interests are focused on the European Union – notably its institutions, decision-making procedures, external relations and enlargement. Inevitably much of his current work is focused on the process and potential implications of Brexit, the form that a new UK-EU relationship might take, and the consequences of Brexit for the EU and for Northern Ireland.

David Phinnemore research interests cover EU treaty reform, EU enlargement, EU external relations, particularly association, and Brexit'. These have resulted in a range of publications, notably: The European Union's 2007 Enlargement (Routledge, 2012, edited with C. Chiva); Reflections on European Integration: 50 Years of the Treaty of Rome (Palgrave, 2009, edited with A. Warleigh-Lack); Romania and the European Union (Routledge, 2008, with D. ... I agree Constitutional Treaty (Routledge, 2005, with C.H. Church); and The Penguin Guide to the European Treaties Penguin (Penguin, 2002, with C.H. Church). He has also contributed chapters to a range of edited volumes and published articles in the Journal of Southern Europe and the Balkans, Journal of Common Market Studies, Journal of European Integration, European Foreign Affairs Review, Revue d'Etudes Comparatives Est-Ouest, Southeast European and Black Sea Studies, and Perspectives on European Politics and Society. His most recent monograph, The Treaty of Lisbon: Origins and Negotiation, was published by Palgrave Macmillan in September 2013.

UNDERSTANDING THE EUROPEAN UNION

A Concise Introduction

SIKKERHETSINNSTRUKS FOR UTENLANDSREISER

Brussel og Belgia er i utgangspunktet sikre steder å reise til, men det har i 2015-16 vært en del terrorangrep. Det er også en viss fare for småtyverier. Vi har derfor følgende sikkerhetsregler under den Internasjonale sommerskolen og under samling 9 (Brusselsamlingen);

- 1. Unngå store folkemengder
- 2. Unngå store åpne plasser
- 3. Det er satt opp sperringer ved innkjøringen til mange gågater. Disse er derfor trygge
- 4. Alle offentlige bygninger i Brussel har streng sikkerhetskontroll og er trygge
- 5. Meld fra om du ser noe mistenkelig (det patruljerer politi og militære alle sentrale steder i Brussel)
- 6. Ikke opphold deg unødvendig lenge På flyplassen og på jernbanestasjonen
- 7. I tilfelle en episode, søk dekning
- 8. Fjern deg deretter raskt fra stedet når du anser at den akutte faren er over
- 9. Meld deg tilbake på hotellet (som er samlingsstedet vårt)
- 10. Telefonnettet blir overbelastet, så gi bare korte beskjeder
- 11. Ta alltid med deg en kopi av passet
- 12. For å unngå ran, unngå små og mørke bakgater
- 13. Gå gjerne sammen flere
- 14. For å unngå lommetyveri, ikke vis hvor du har lommebok og telefonen
- 15. Tore mobiltelefon 0047 90 75 76 01 kan kun ringes i nødstilfeller
